

Important Blog Announcement

Hi everyone!

It's with a heavy heart that I make this announcement: xtinedanielle.com will be closing down at the end of February.

It's been an awesome six years sharing my story through blogging.

Personally, this blog was a healing tool and much-needed outlet through a very difficult time in my life.

I thank you all SO MUCH for the support through the years! I am truly grateful!

I'll be keeping most of my social media channels so please feel free to connect with me there.

All the very best,

XD
